Coegil

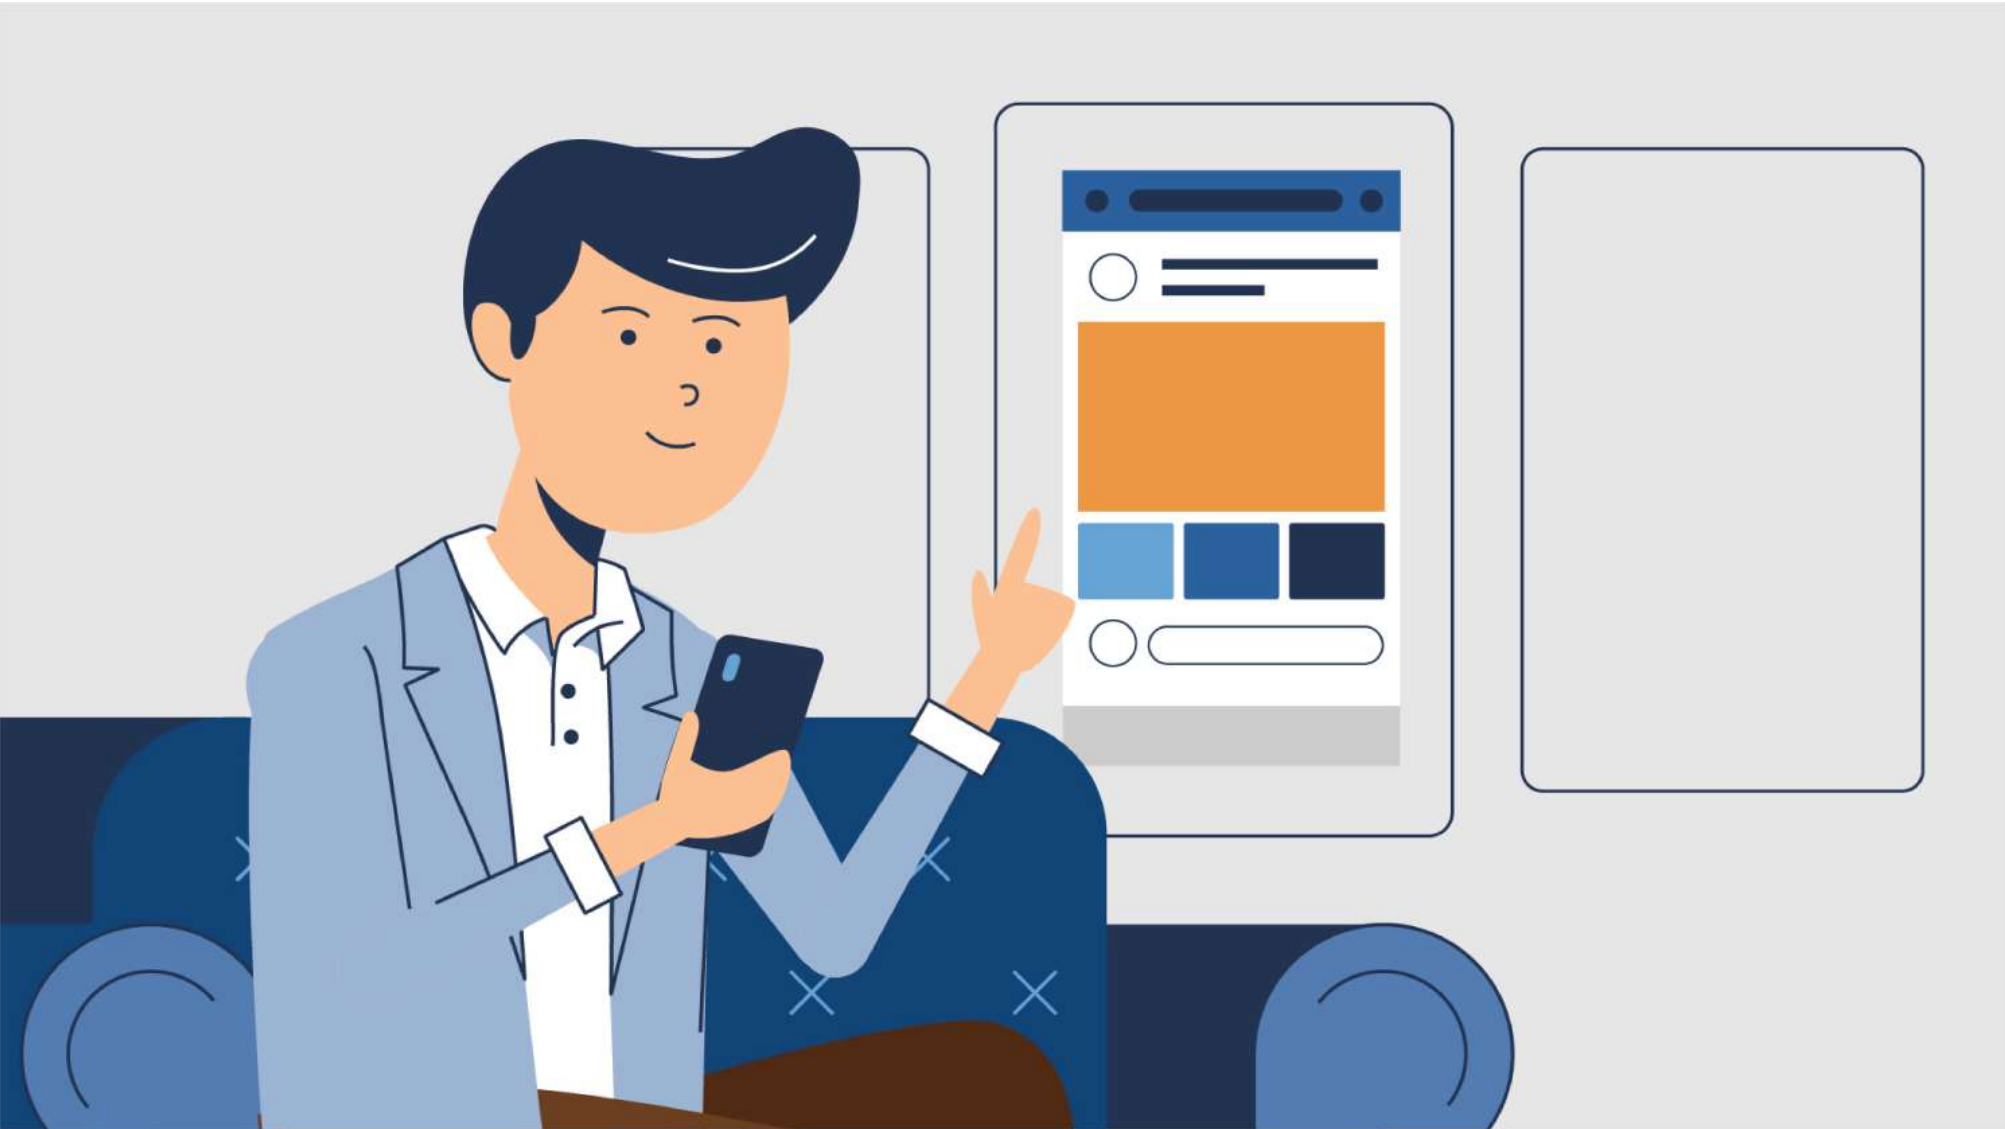

Explainer Video

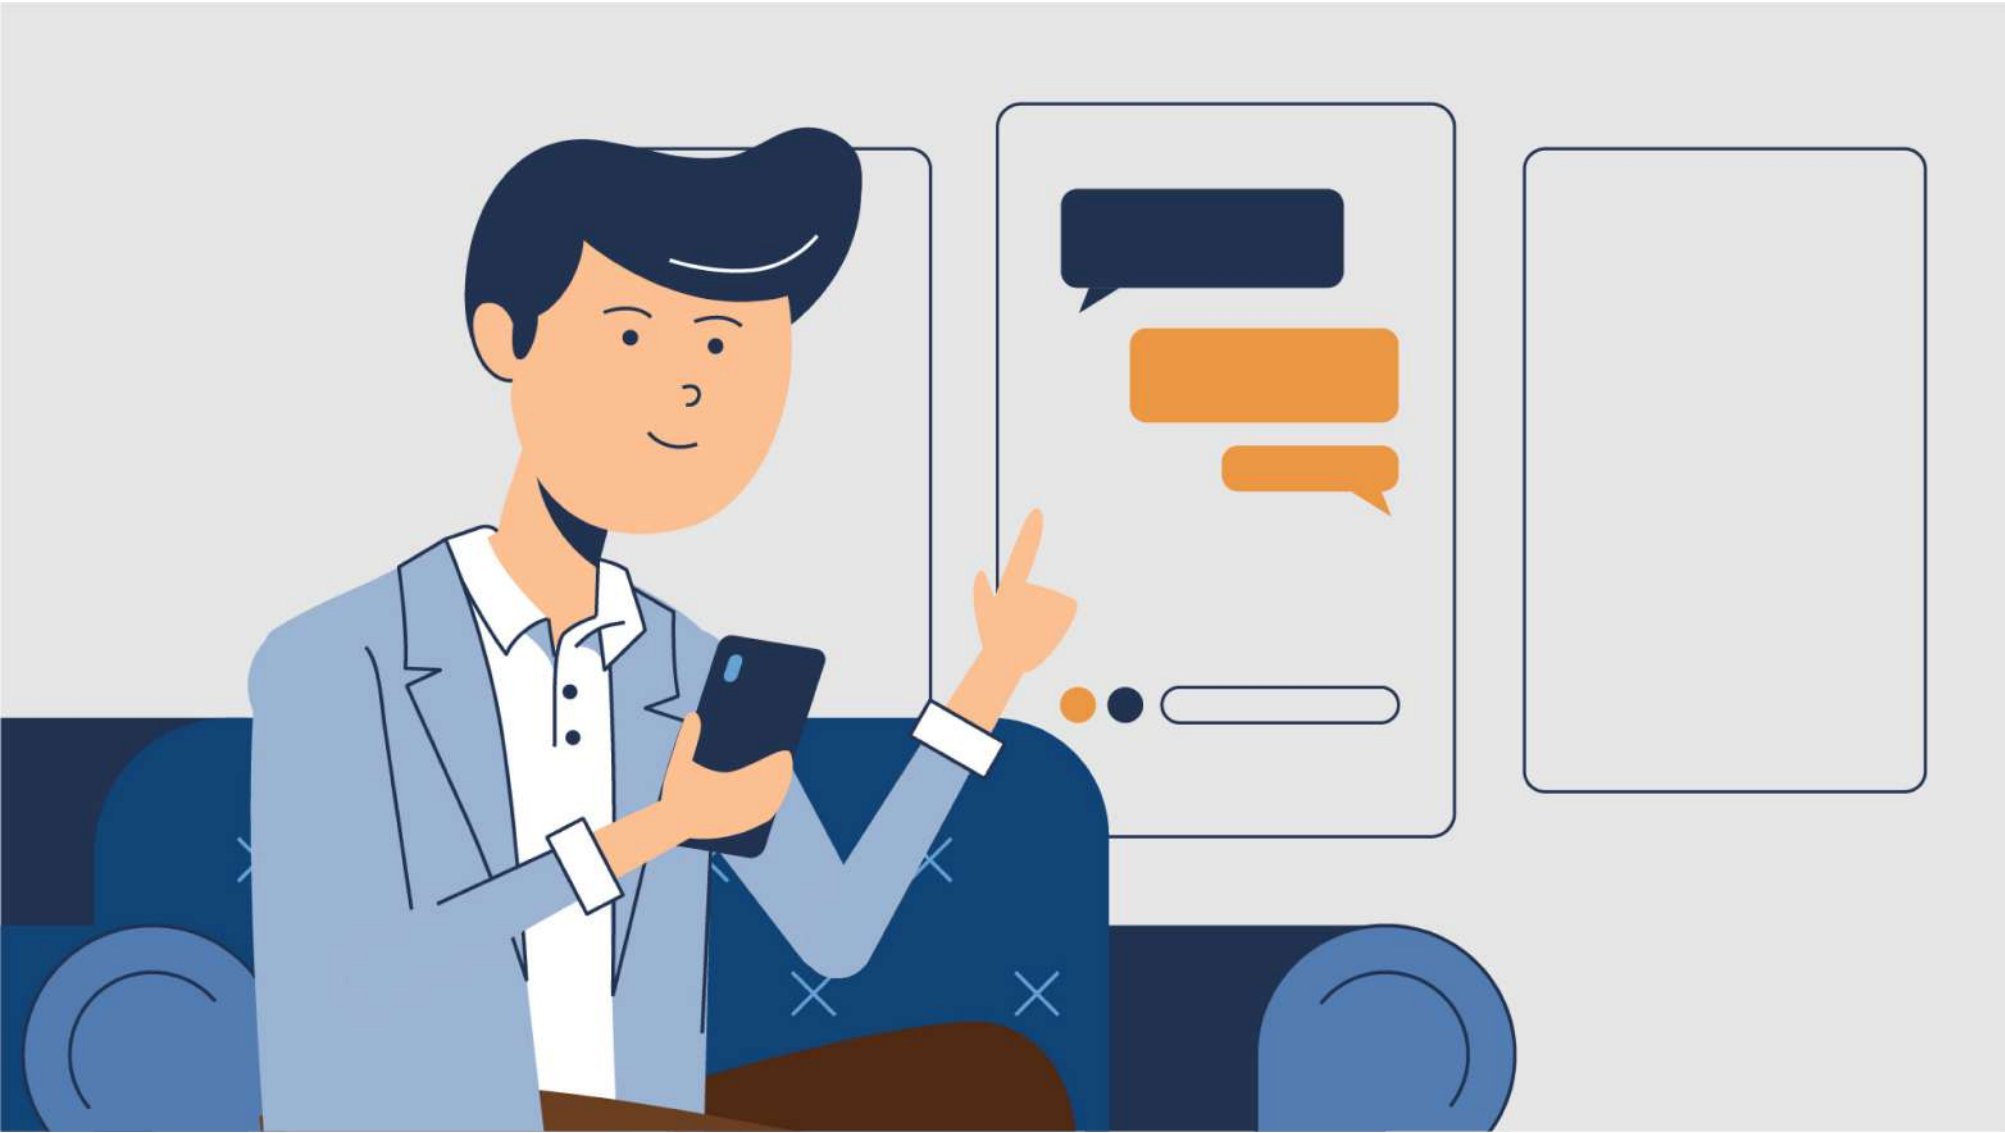

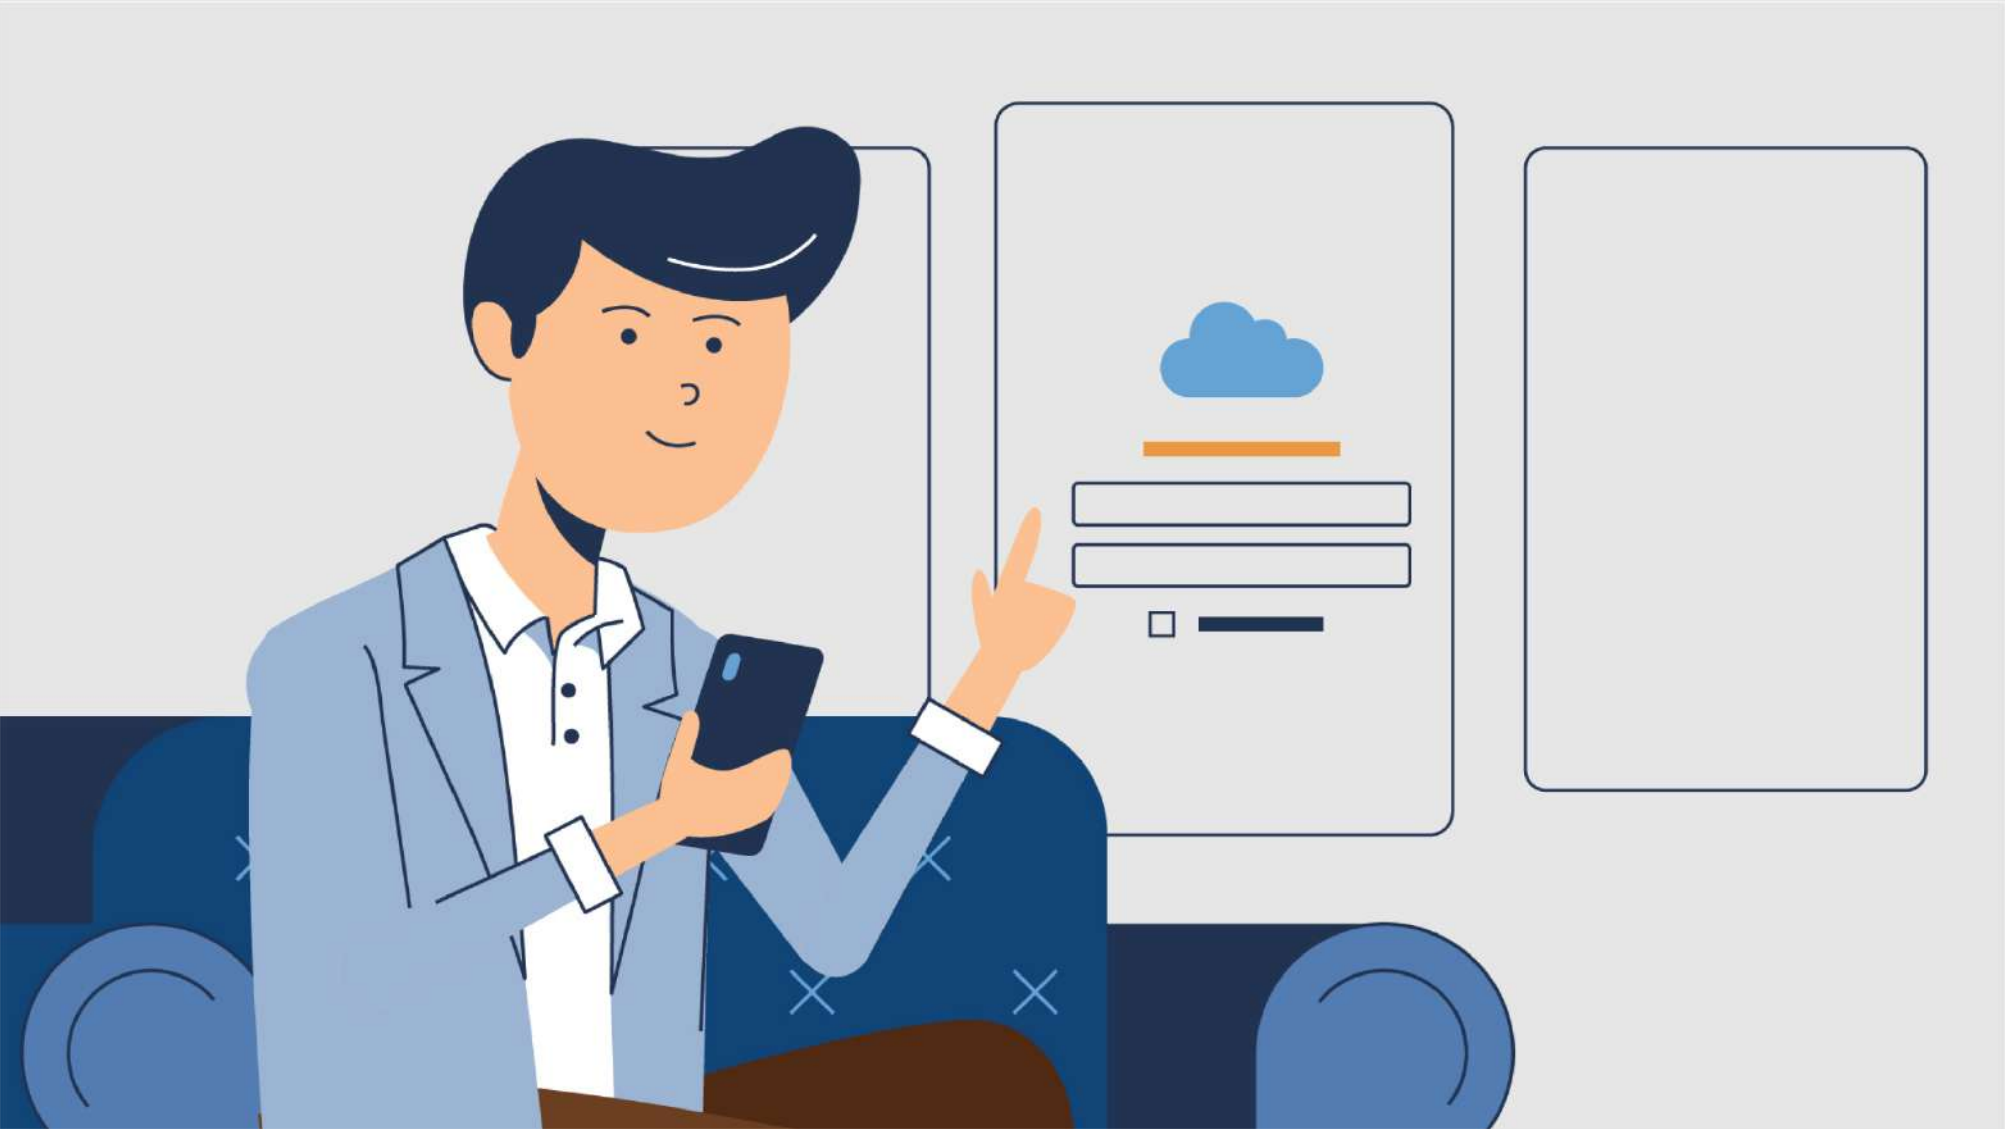

Eric is a super- connected research analyst:

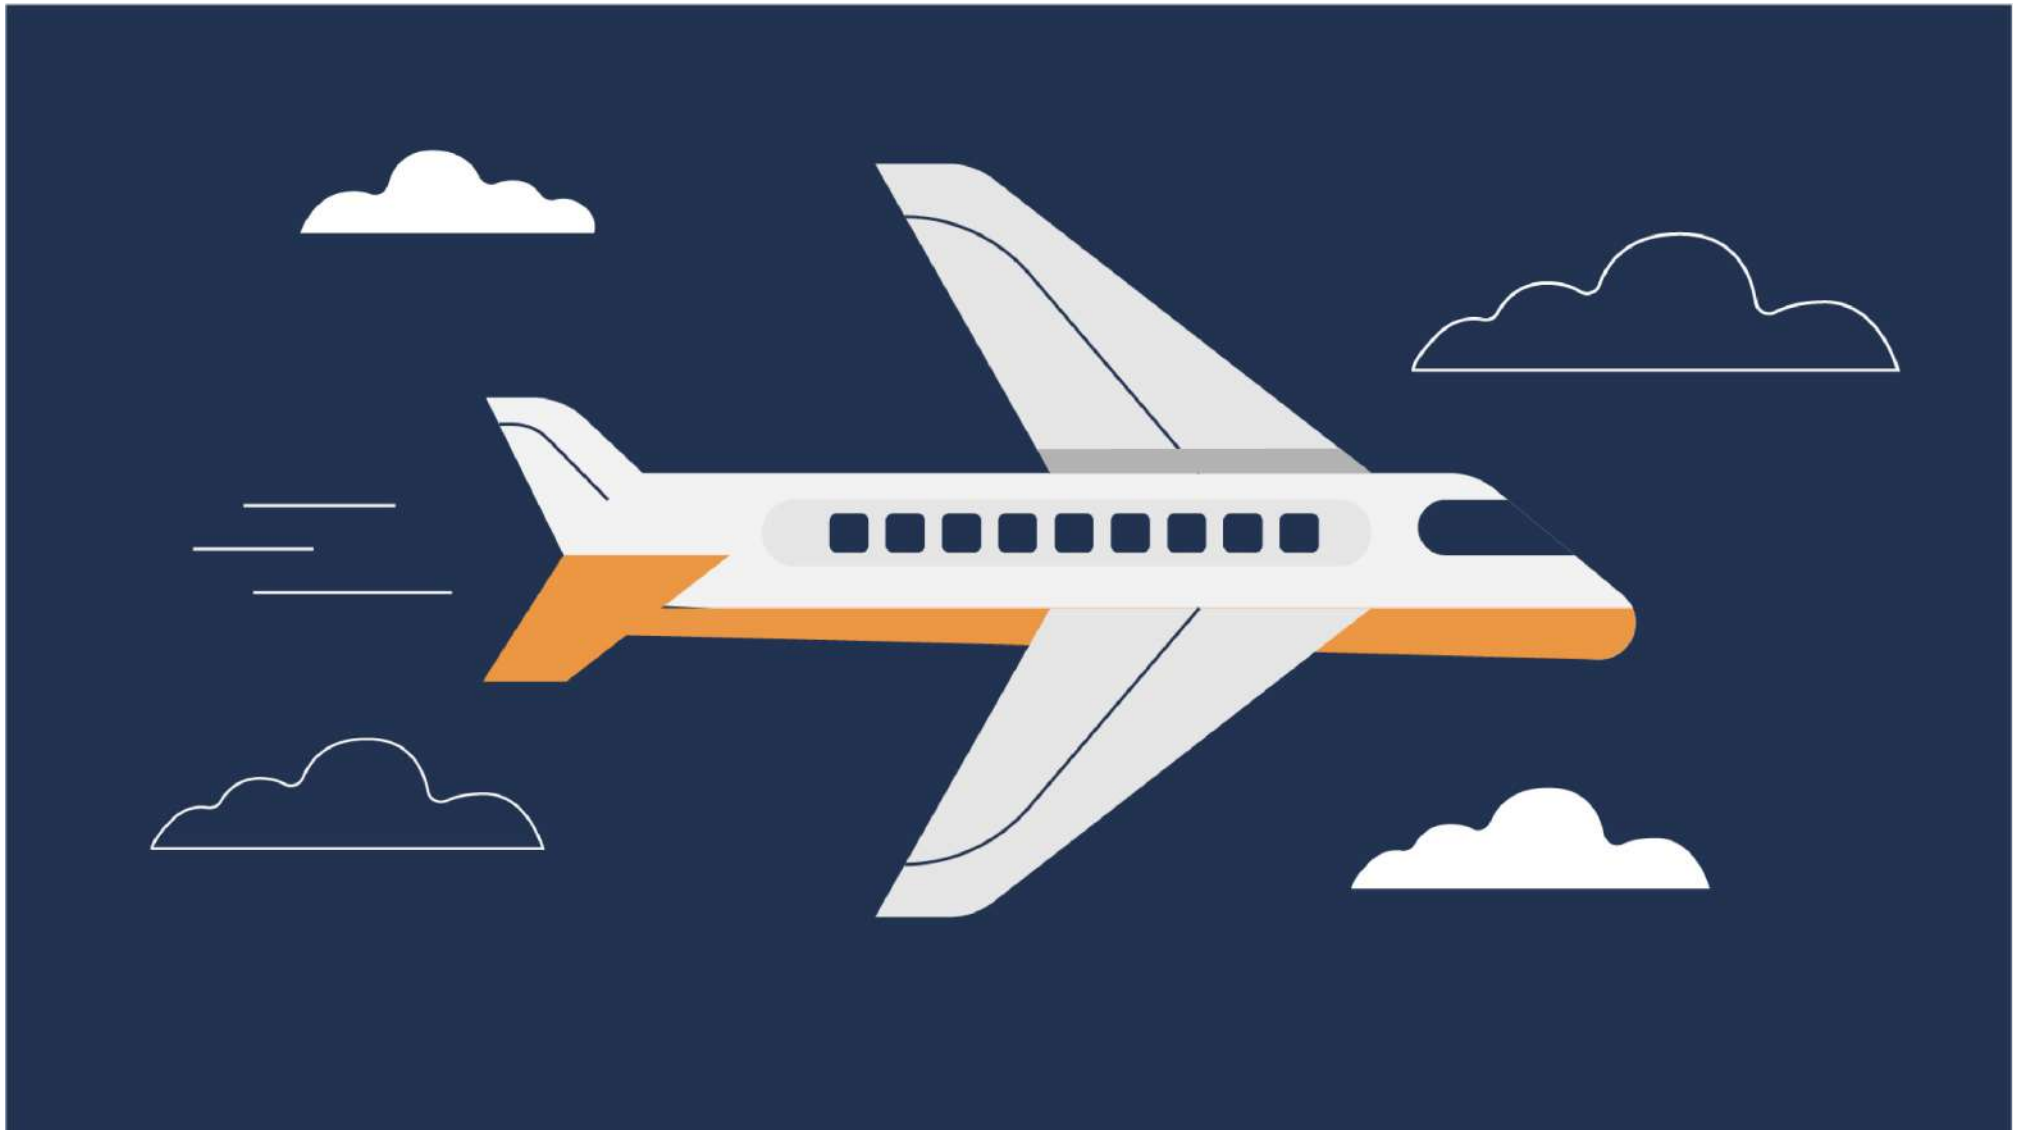

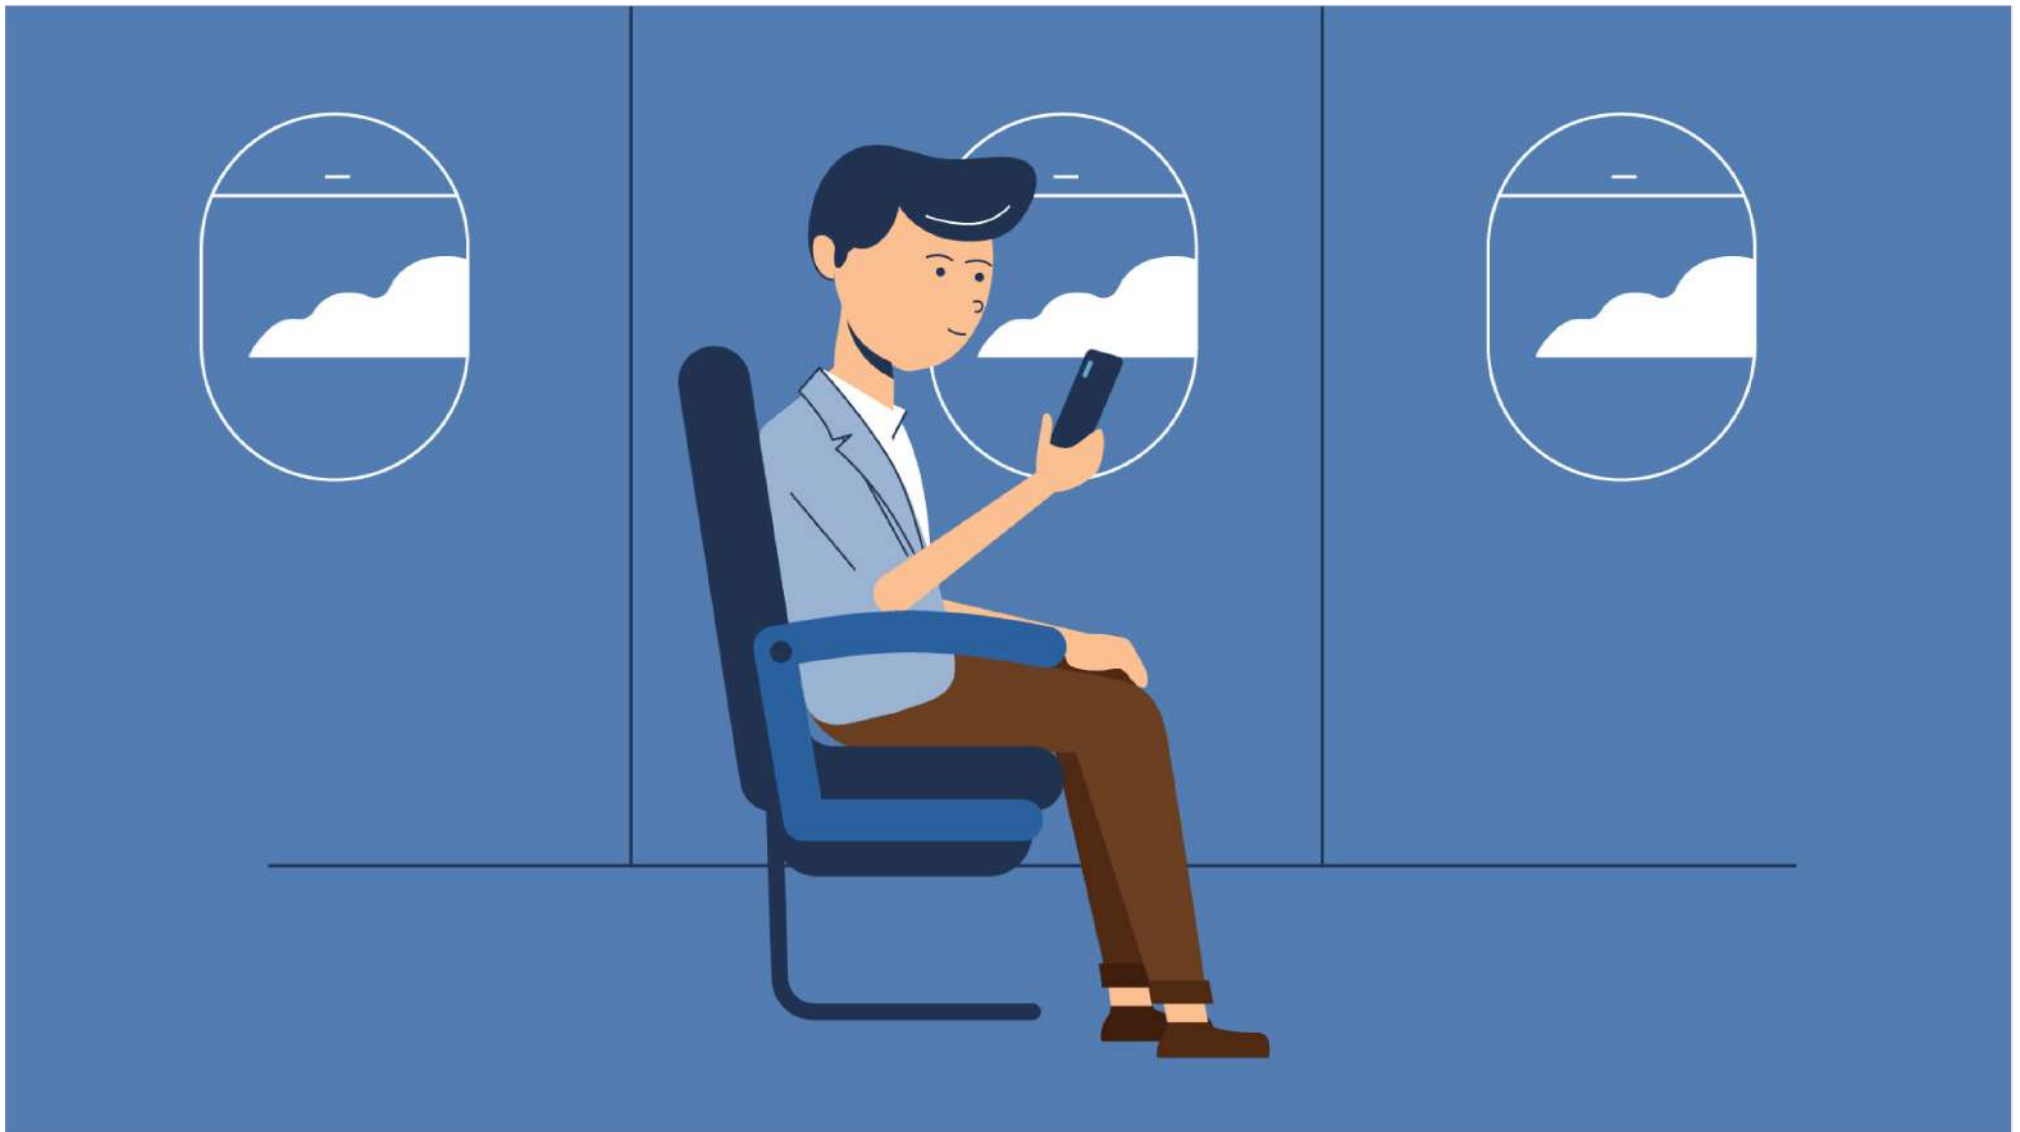

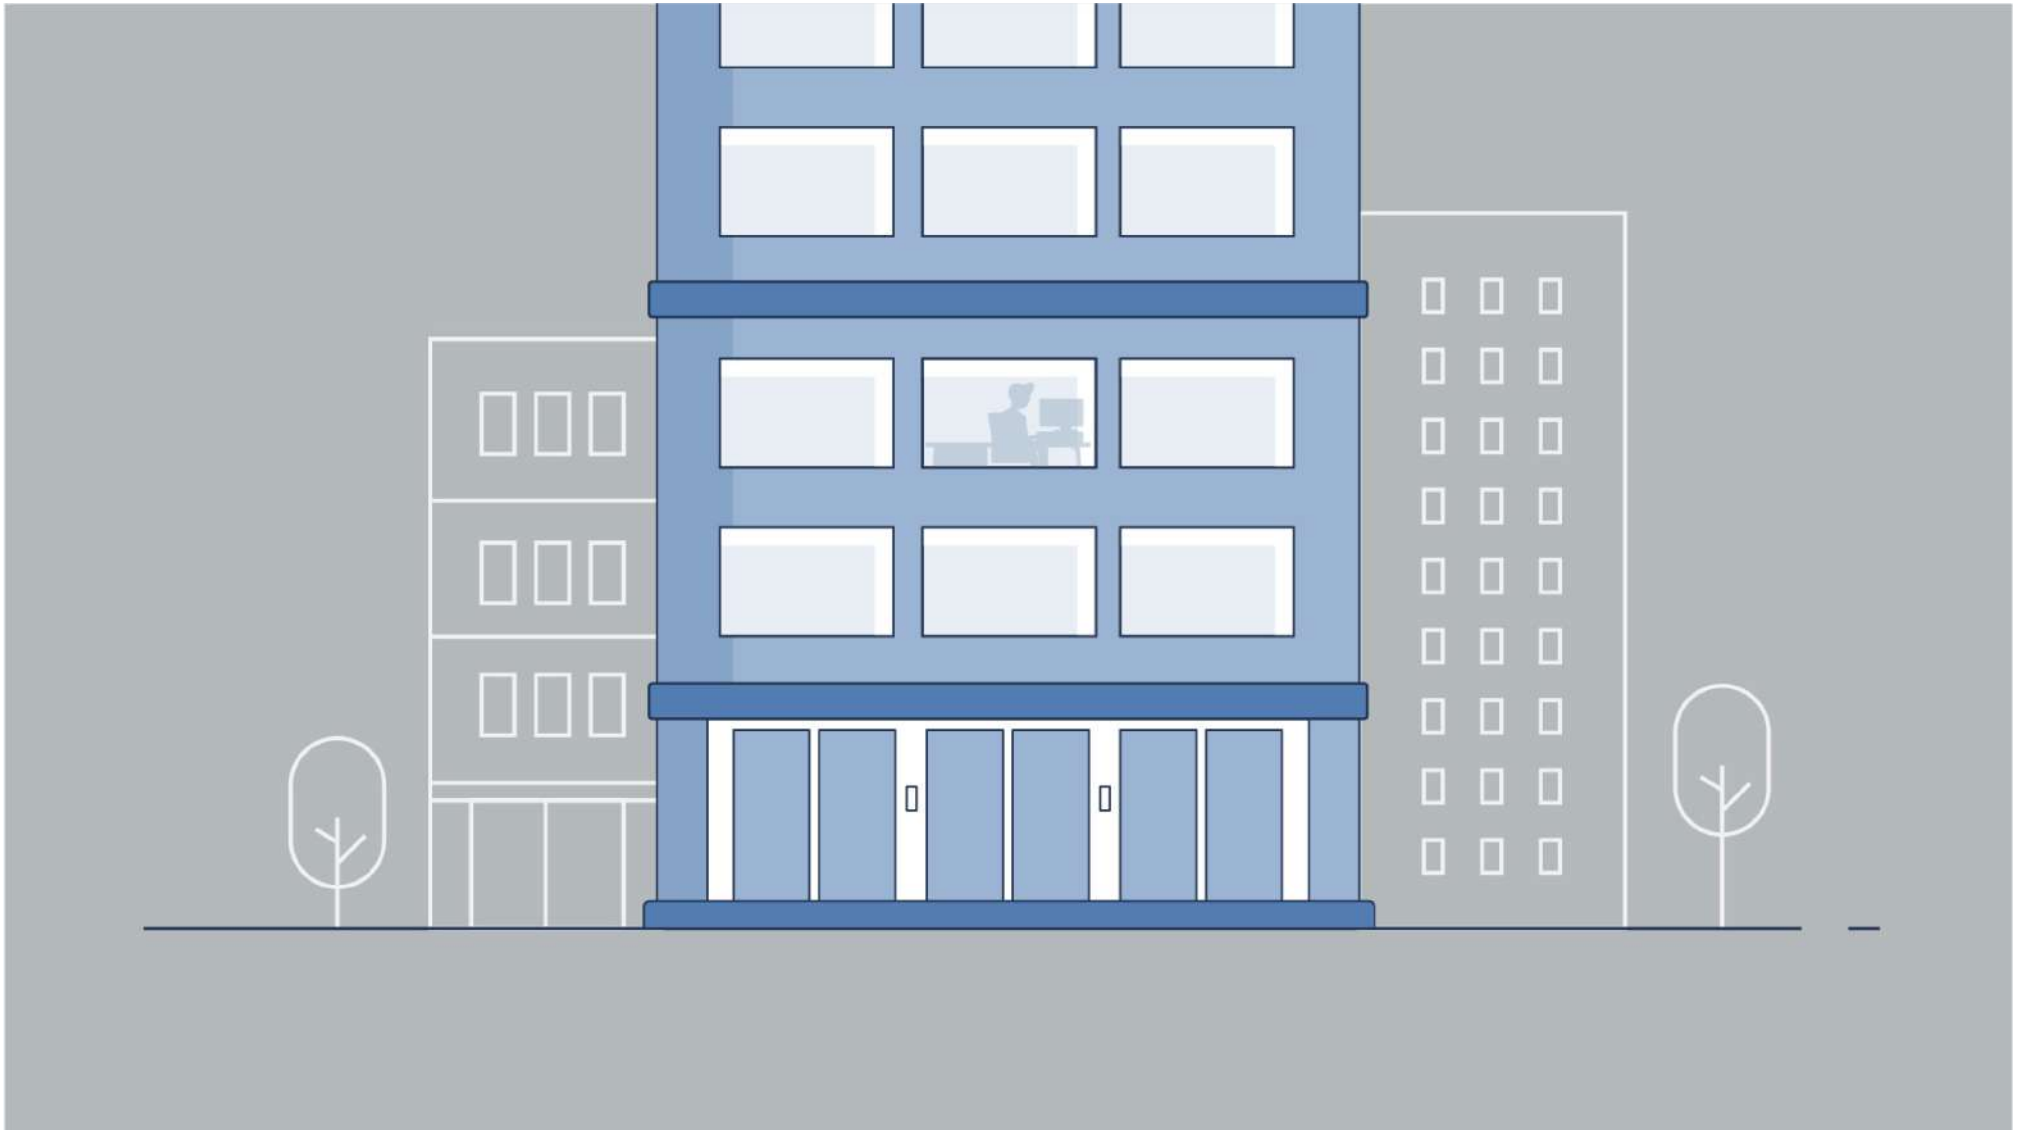

the cloud.

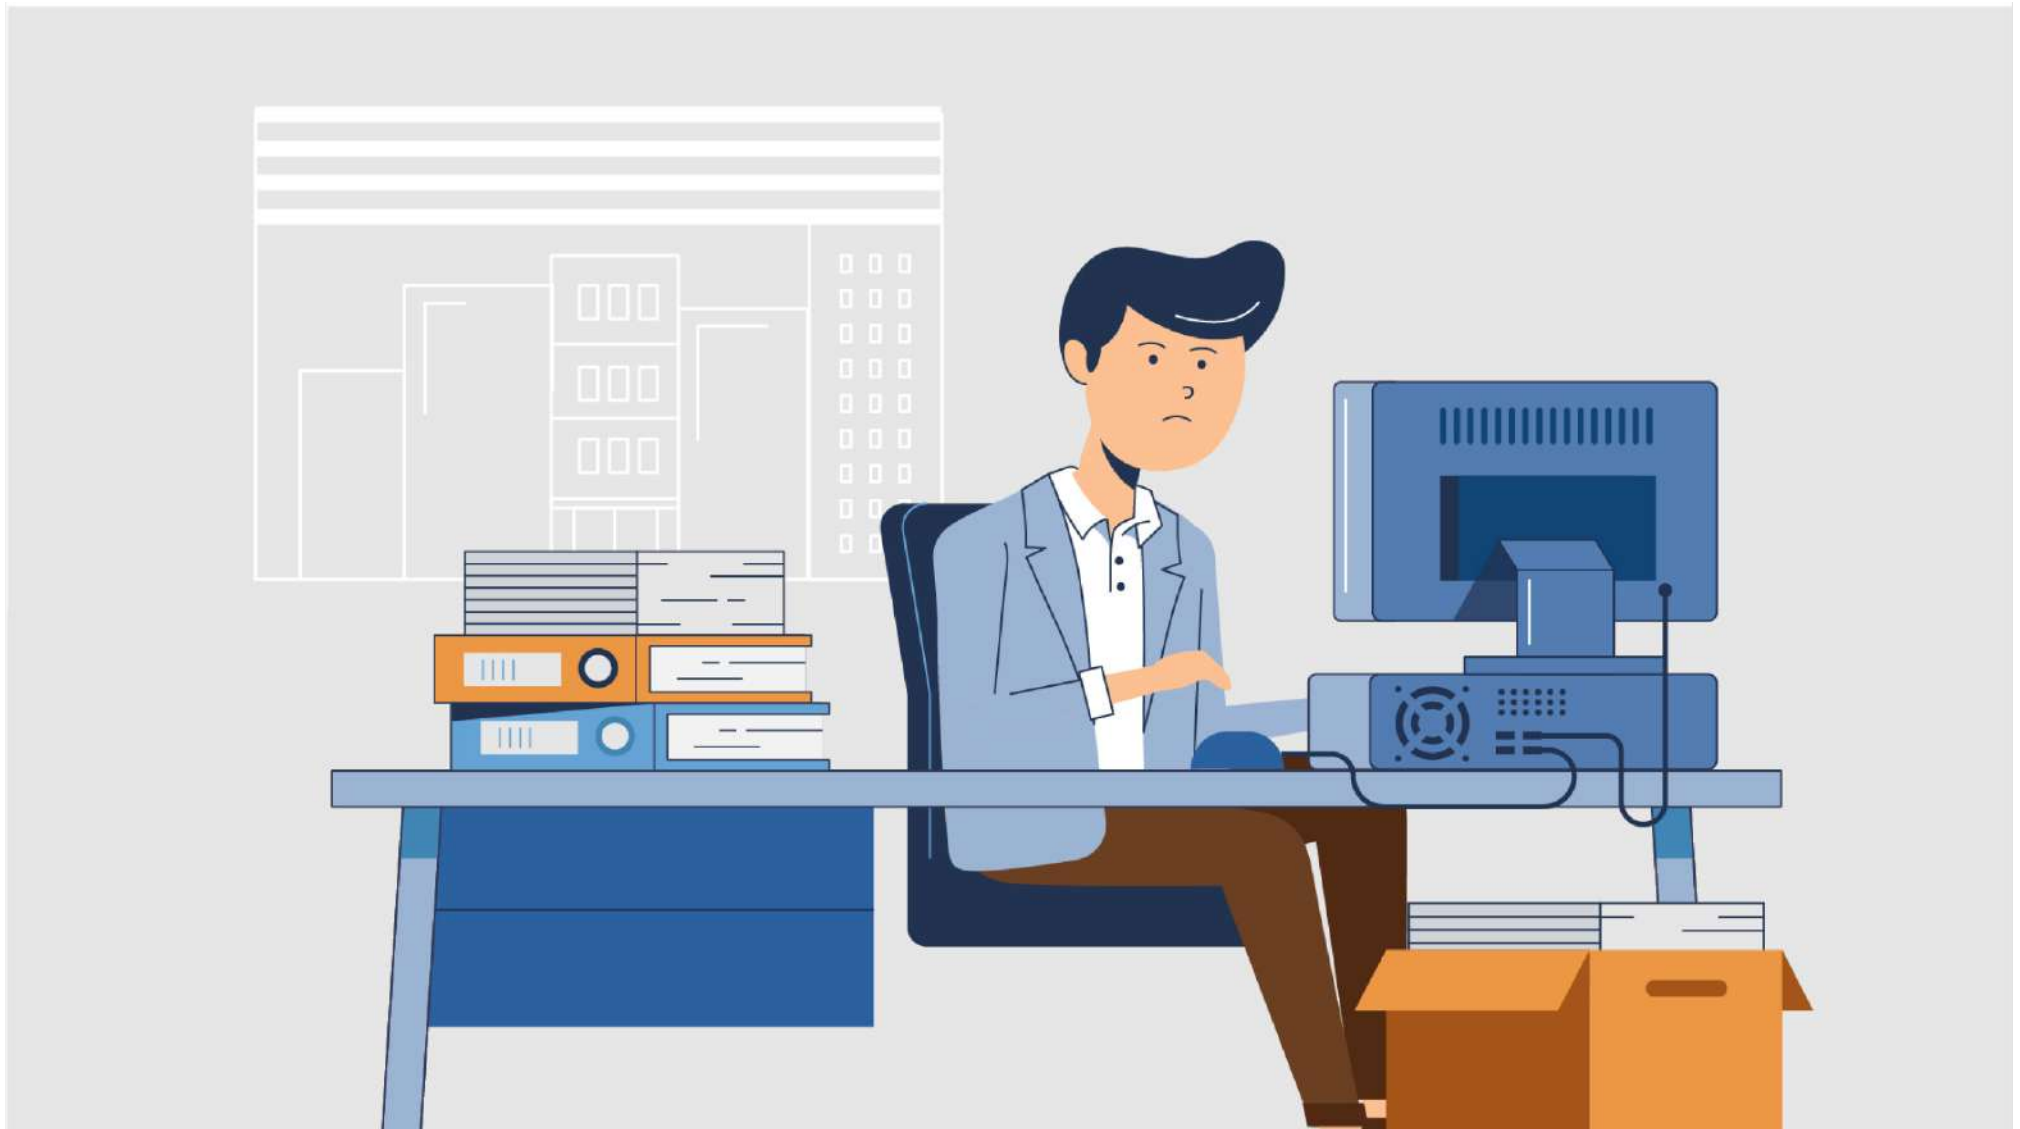

It doesn't matter where he is in the world,

he can do anything ... well, almost anything.

So, imagine his shock when he learns the firm, he joined, uses paper and email to market & distribute his research. It seems a little outdated, old- fashioned and just doesn't work.

Eric wonders why his firm has not taken advantage of Coegil is changing the face of the asset management industry,

...enabling analysts to provide customized research to portfolio managers

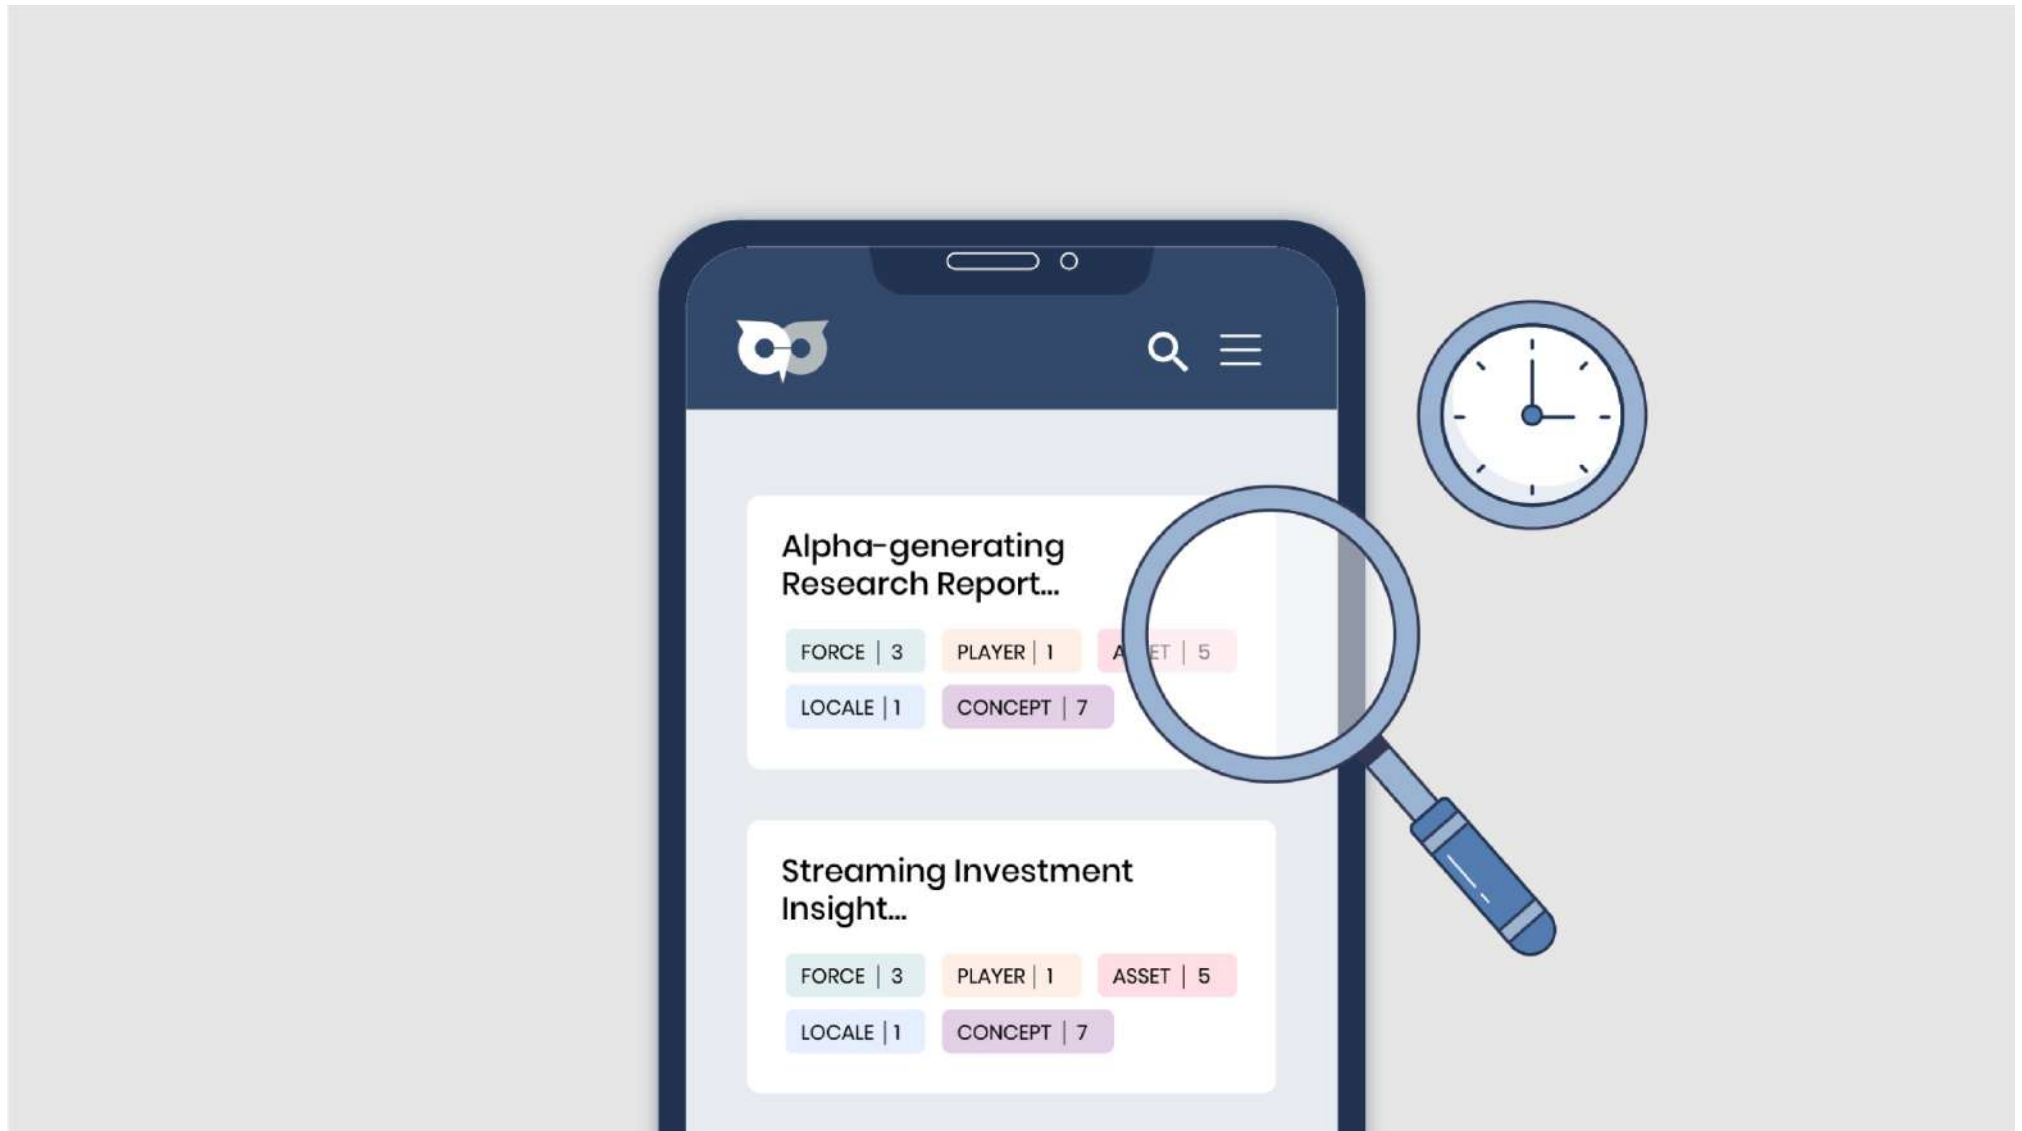

...from any device, in real-time.

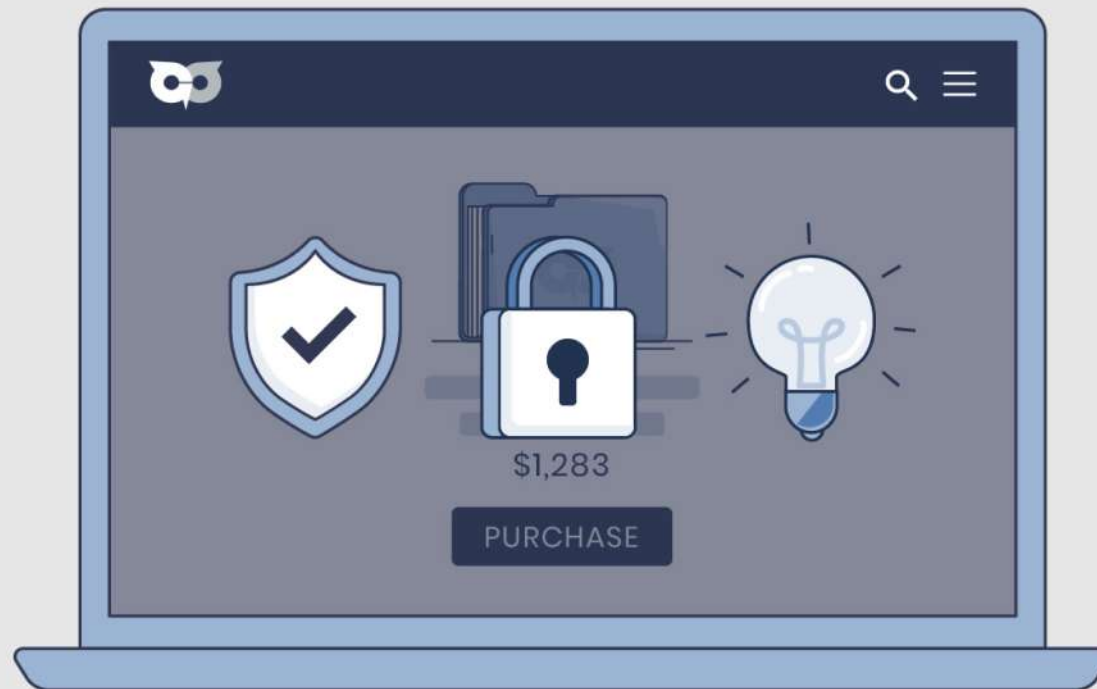

Coegil allows customers, like Eric, to collaborate, purchase, and produce research anytime, anywhere.

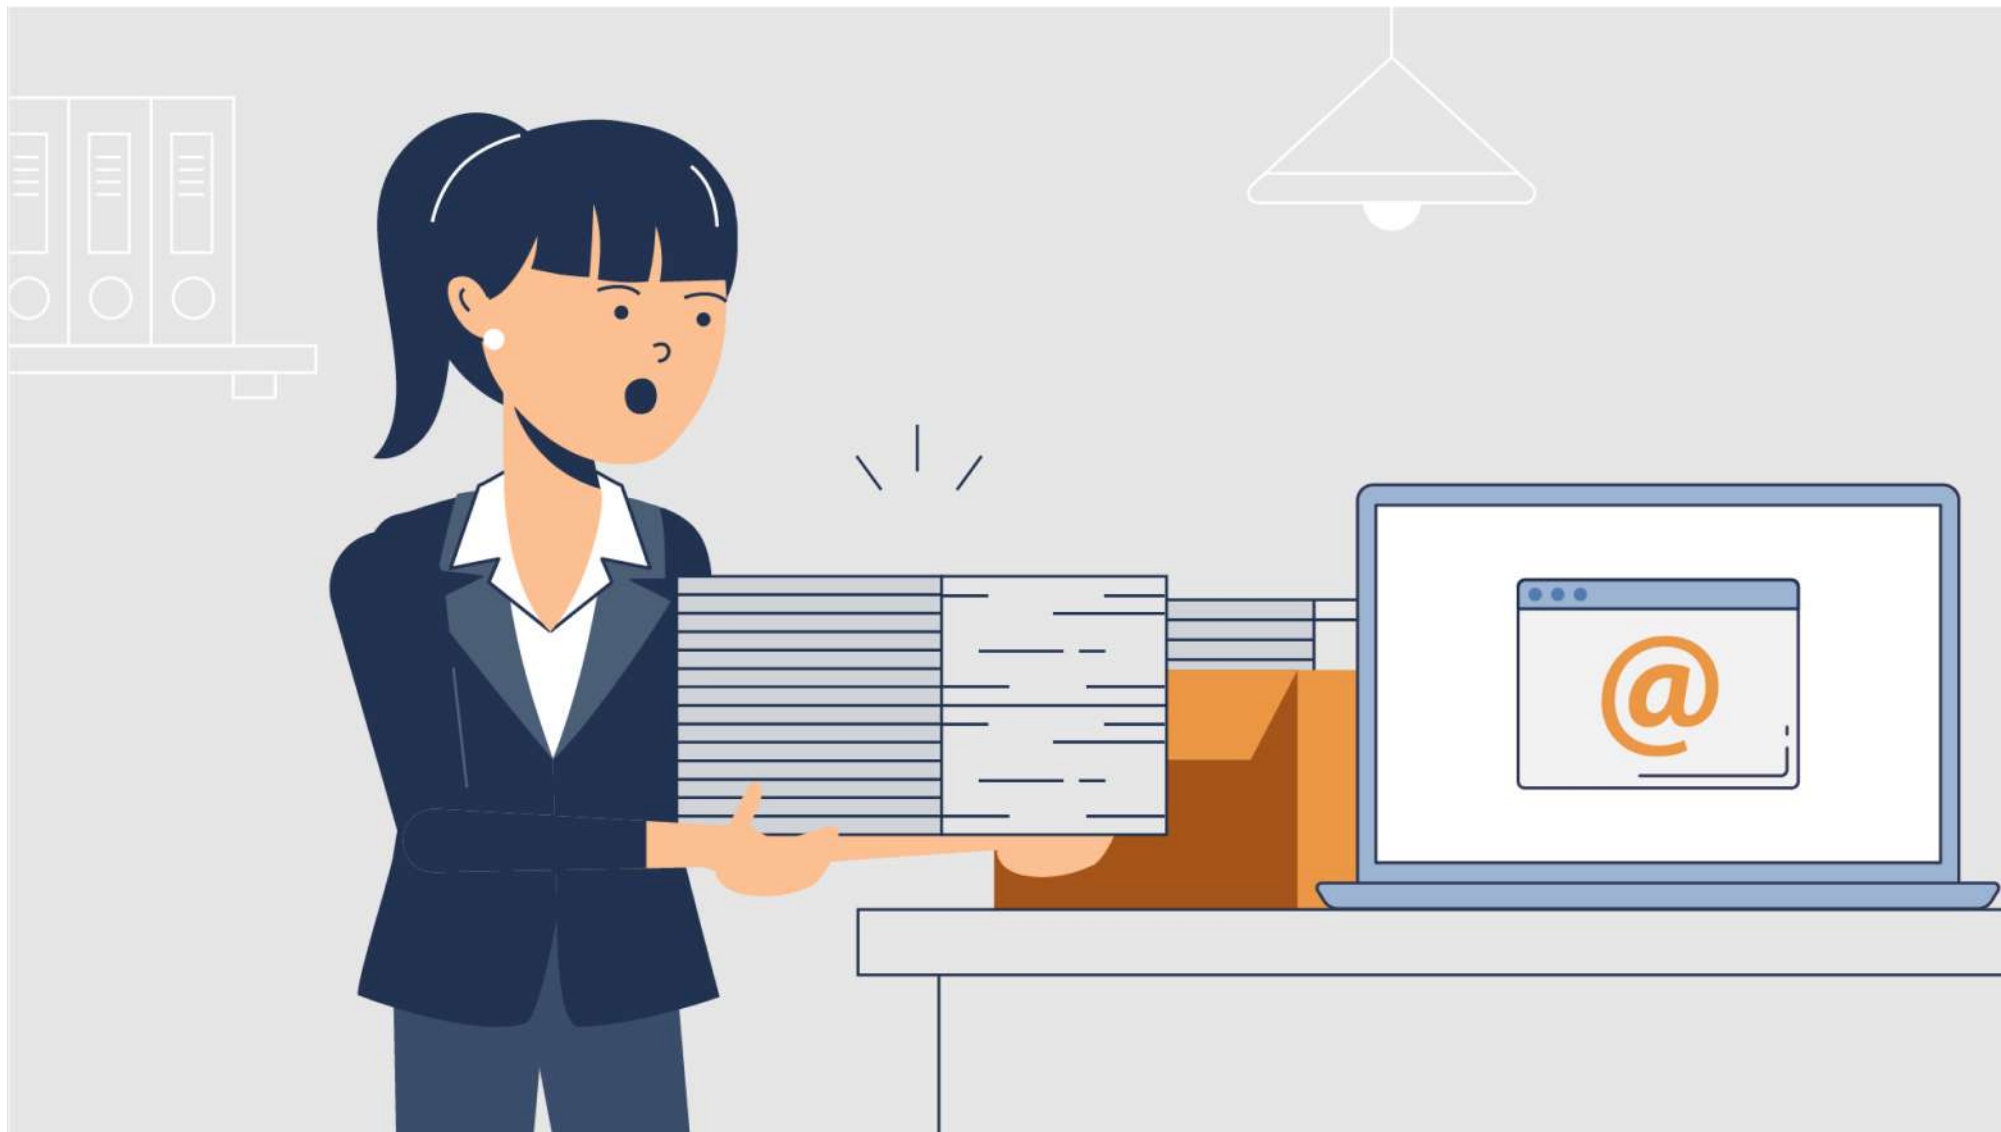

Load your research, add some tags, and Coegil takes care of the rest.

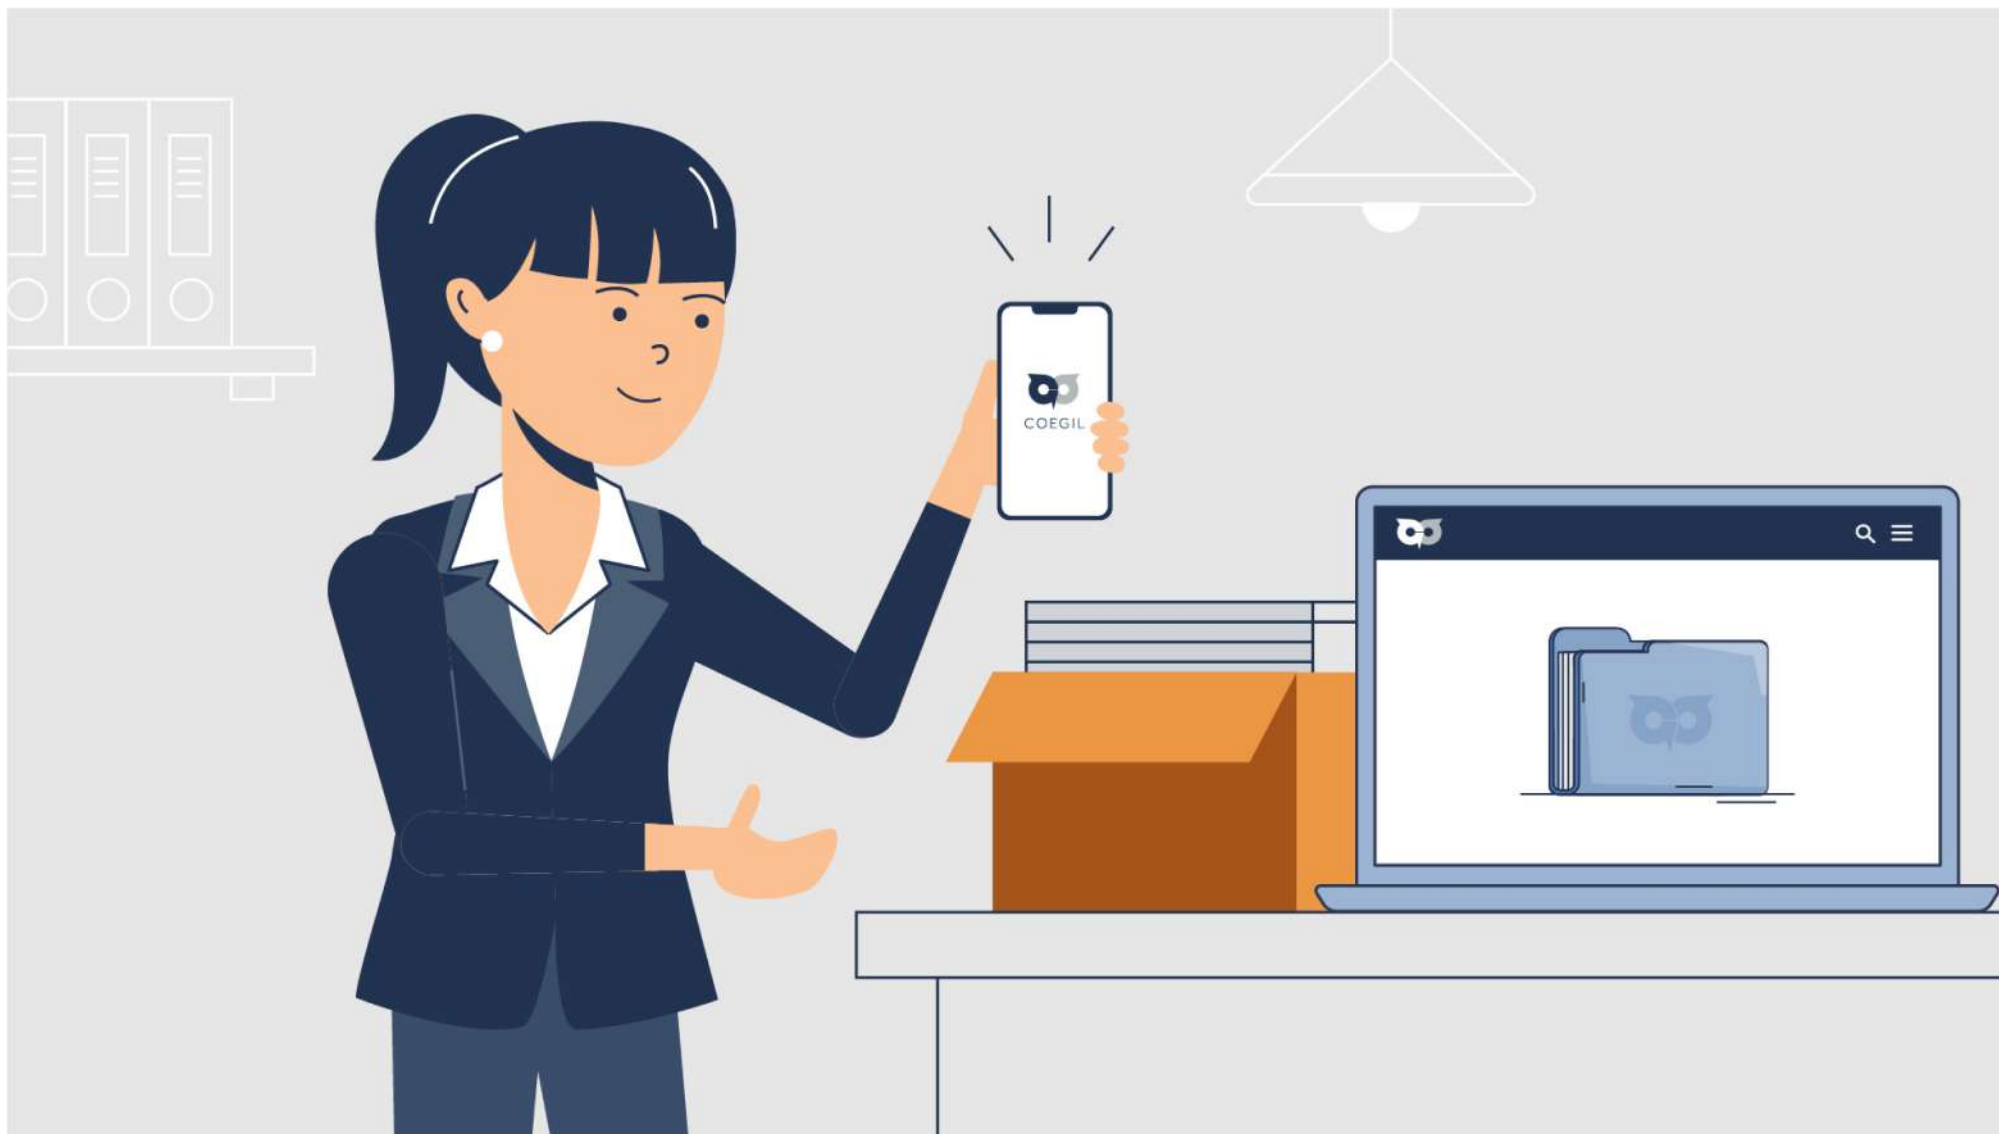

Because it is easy to use, it saves a lot of time not just for customers but for research providers too.

Coegil is a trusted and reliable service for research transactions – it's safe, secure, & efficient.

The best part, of course, is the wow-factor for portfolio managers:

no paper, all digital, and to the point.
